There is nothing more exciting than breaking open the Gospel of Jesus Christ-especially to a congregation engaged in the homily. Connecting Pulpit and Pew not only reinforces this essential mission, but confronts directly "the Loud Silence" that impedes the preacher's effectiveness. We are reminded that preaching matters, that people hunger for an encounter with God, and that the Gospel is most powerful when

New research speaks to those questions from the voices of youth, the experiences of lay leaders, and the words of priests and deacons. Karla Bellinger offers concrete ways to connect the pulpit and the pew so that preaching becomes an act of love within a community of caring. This practical book breaks open an important and necessary conversation.
