What If Everybody Did That?: A 1 st Grade Lesson on Respect I absolutely love the book What If Everybody Did That? by Ellen Javernick! For those of you who aren ' t familiar with the book, it centers on a boy who makes some seemingly minor bad decisions, such as throwing trash out of the car window and taking a lick of icing off of a wedding cake.

1st Grade Lesson on Respect: What If Everybody Did That?

Each incident ends with a humorless, scolding adult pointedly asking, "What if everybody did that?" Madden's mixed-media illustrations are colorful and detailed, devoting one spread to each faux pas. The left-hand page depicts the little boy caught in flagrante by a scowling adult; the right-hand page depicts his imagining the consequences of "everybody doing that."

It turns out that "What If Everybody Did?" is useful to me in dealing with more complex ethical dilemmas, too. Here is one example: In a good number of our cities we see people standing on street corners with cardboard signs. The signs typically say that these people are homeless and hungry. The people want a handout. Do I give them one?

This is a great book and the line 'what if everybody did that' rings very true for my 4 and 6 year old when I want to remind them of a behaviour. It is a bit American biased (what if everybody run onto the football field?). But had some great everyday examples of situations which cleverly explains some of the rules we have at home (what if ...
